The name Calkin is very old and as far as can be learned up to this writing is of English-Welsh origin. The earliest date on record where the name has appeared was in England in the year 1066 when Sir Jean Carmont Calquens was granted an estate in Wales. A Dr. William Colkin lived in King John's Reign (1199-1216) when he founded a Hospital in Canterbury which bore his name, records say it is still there and still bears the name and also a street in that City is known as Colkin Lane, and a place of some note in the Diocese of Canterbury is, or was, called Fredville (Froidville) and belonged to the Colkin family. William Calkin was one of the barons who wrested the Magna Charta from King John. In the "Offices" at Canterbury are the names Ballivi: Williamus Cockin, 1250; Edmundus Cockin, 1358.

Among the ancient spellings of the name, the following have been found: Colkin, Colken, Coken, Cokyn, Calkin, Calkyn, Cokain, Cokayn, Gookin, Goken, Goking, Gockin, Cauken, Calkin, Calkins, Caulkins, Caulkin, Cawkin, Calkings, Cawking, Corkens, Corkins.

An ancient Coat of Arms is recorded as being granted about 1190, but there are also other dates found, but all are between 1190 and the 1200's.

More data may eventually be found regarding the family during these very early days in England and Wales, but this we do know, Hugh Calkin was the first and only Calkin to come to America. Hugh was born in 1600 and sailed with a party of immigrants including his wife Ann (whose surname is recorded as Eaton or Eston, but as there was an Eaton in the party, it is thought that that is correct although there were also Estons in England) and according to birth dates, they brought four of their children, who had been born in England. They landed at Green Harbor, near Marshfield, Mass. in the year 1640. This group of immigrants were called the "Welsh Company" and were under the leadership of Pastor Richard Blinman, passage having been arranged, as well as general plans for the group, by an Agent for the Colonies in England. After their landing at Green Harbor they found some previous settlers not very friendly so they moved to Gloucester, Mass. where their two younger daughters were born. Hugh served as Deputy to the General Court for Gloucester and as Selectman and also was elected several times to the Massachusetts Legislature. The Rev. Blinman and several others moved to New London and a little later Hugh Calkin and a number of the Party, after leaving Gloucester and spending a short time in Plymouth with the Mayflower Party, but not agreeing with all their religious views, followed the Rev. Blinman to New London. They lived there on Ann Street or Cape Ann Lane as it was then called. While in New London Hugh was Deputy to the General Court at Hartford and Selectman and elected to the Connecticut Legislature. (Many more details, as well as this small amount of data will be found in the "History of New London" and the "History of Norwich" by Frances Manwaring Calkin). In 1659 Hugh Calkin and thirty-one others left New London and on June 6th, 1659 founded the town of Norwich, twelve miles up the river from New London, where he held the same Court and State Offices. Hugh and his son John built their homes on what is now West Town Street in Norwichtown, a short distance from the little Cemetery where the Founders of Norwich are buried with no headstones but where a Monument now stands to their memory and a granite bench, also to their memory, has been placed there by the Society of the Founders of Norwich, Connecticut.

I am endeavoring to obtain all the complete lines of the descendants of Hugh that I can possibly get and place them within these covers. I shall start the first line with Hugh and follow that with his family, names and dates and shall do that for each generation in each line, but if I have a number of lines that have the same descent for the first three or four generations, I shall just start each separate line with, for example, Hugh, John, Samuel, after I have given the names and dates once but where a change takes place, all data will be listed as usual. I shall start with my own line and follow with others that are similar. The page after each complete line will give a short history of that family, if I have been able to obtain any. The direct line of descent in each case will have that ancestor underlined and I may not in all cases, be able to place each member of a generation in order of their birth. I shall endeavor to have all data correct, but that being practically impossible, I am still sure it will be as correct as possible, that being all anyone can do.

In this line, our direct ancestor John, of the 4th generation, married Catherine Foster as his first wife. Catherine was of somewhat noted ancestry as her father Daniel Foster was the son of Isaac Foster who was the son of Abigail Foster the immigrant, who in 1668 settled in Ipswich, Mass. He died there in 1692. Abigail Foster married to the family of the borough and Limerstone Castle in Northumberland, England, and were rewarded by the King in the bestowing of a Crest and Coat of Arms, for distinguishing themselves in the war against the Scots.

Elizabeth Standish, Hugh's second wife, in the third generation, was the daughter of Captain Josiah Standish, who was the son of Miles Standish, immortalized in the poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow "The Courtship of Miles Standish".

John's son John, went to Nova Scotia and his son John went from Nova Scotia to New Brunswick. It is also believed that James, in the line of George H. Wells and W. James Standish, also went to New Brunswick.

George Frederick Callin was born in Danvers, N. B., and lived later at Silver Falls, Saint John Co., N. B. He was settled in Saint John, N. B., where he died. His other daughter Susan also died in Saint John, N. B. at his home. His mother and father, John Bennett Callin and Margaret Horton are buried in the corner cemetery, Danvers, N. B. While George Frederick and his wife Florence (L. E. (Alton)) were laid to rest in Fairhill cemetery, Saint John, N. B.

Mary Alice Alton Callin (Berling) lives in New York City, N.Y., at 501-34th Ave., L.I. City N.Y., N. Y.

John Francis Callin (Lyon) lives in Montreal, P. Q., Can. at 15 Thetford St.

Charlotte Helen Callin (Cook) lives in Montreal, P. Q., at 1115 St. Charles Ave.

John, in the 4th generation married Catherine Foster (sometimes spelled Katharine) as his first wife, and the children listed of this first marriage are as follows: John, Sarah, John, Anne, Catherine, Nathaniel, James, Joel, Elizabeth, Susan and David.

This line follows a familiar path to Richard and his son John, it then changes as these are descendants of John and Sarah Bennett's son Charles who was a brother of John. Charles died in Horton, N. S., but lived for a time in Saint John, N. S. George and Sarah, his son and daughter, were born in Horton, N. S., but it will be noted that all other children were born in Saint John, N. S., including Lucrotia Owen, who I married in the old burying ground at Saint John, N. S., almost at the corner of Somerset St. and King St. Last (stone probably not legible now but the writer has seen it clearly). George and Sarah, born in Horton, N. S., married to Leveina Church from St. John, N. S., by Rev. R. Thompson, and died in 1903 in Saint John, N. S. His son Charles married Caroline Thompson (sister of Rev. Thompson of Saint John, N. S.) and from his father-in-law they have resided in Saint John, N. S.

There is a paper which shows a Charles and Sarah in 17/10/1704 but as yet I have not been able to find out who this refers to.

Ralph Thompson, son of John Thompson and Sarah Collins is with the U. S. Army in Japan and his son Pitt Thompson is with the U. S. Air Force in Austin, Texas.

The copies of the files of Charles and Sarah are among my typewritten papers.

Mr. Pitt Thompson kindly furnished all the material required to complete this line. He lives at 37 Elm St., Saint John, N. S.

It is true, of Kentville, N. S., and, Benjamin Howe Gullin carried the hardware business, which celebrated its century of existence in 1947, but it was his son, Thomas Pennington, who gave his name to the firm, T. P. Gullin, Ltd.

The founder of T. P. Gullin, Limited, over a hundred years ago, was the third founding Gullin on the record of this line. Eighty-six years before Benjamin started the business in Kentville, his great-grandfather, Isakial, had started the family in Nova Scotia, as a grantee and planter of Annamallis; and one Hugh, out of John's children, England, (on the border of Wales), had started the family in England, just one hundred and twenty-one years before Isakial's move to Nova Scotia. So, to the Nova Scotia families, there are three founders: Hugh, the Welsh adventurer to America; Isakial, the Connecticut adventurer to Nova Scotia and Benjamin Howe, the venturer out of general farming into general merchandising.

Isakial was born in Lebanon, Conn., late in the year 1720, to become the founder of the Nova Scotia Gullins in 1761, at the age of forty-two, and so a pioneer. Isakial, the planter, must have learned nothing, for he and his wife had the Shannock branch of the family well started almost upon their arrival in Annamallis, in the person of nine year old Mira. Isakial and his increasing family settled down contentedly in the land (part from the crown. As a product of the Lebanon Grammar School - a seat of learning highly regarded in its day and place - he had brought books, as well as farm implements and house-goods, to his new home. Calling his land adequately, and raising his children to fear God, honour the King and read John Milton's English and even a few tags of Latin, peace, he lived out his days in peace and comparative comfort.

Mira Gullin, the planter's eldest son, (he who had been born in Lebanon in 1752), was not lacking in either energy or enterprise, though it is nowhere recorded that he ever strove for political preeminence or worldly affluence. He, a widower, married a widow - at the age of twenty-five; and he was still in his twenty-sixth year when this union was blessed by a son, Elias, in the fall of 1779. Just what his age had been at his first marriage is not known; but, by computation of certain natural laws it must have been inconsiderable. There had doubtless been a domestic tragedy, or perhaps two of said, before the marriage of young widower Gullin to the presumably young widow Isakial. (This would seem to point to Mira as marrying widow Isakial, but some records name Isakial. This point has been mentioned previously in these records and I am endeavoring to ascertain where this information was obtained, naming Mira as her husband.) The lady, a Hamilton by birth, was the wife of Nathan Isakial, Jr., of the well known family which furnished a godfather to the community once known by the appellation Red Creek but now by the euphonious and distinguished name of Milville.

Elias Gullin, son of Mira and grandson of Isakial, the Annamallis Grantee of 1761, was matrimonially slower than either of his parents had been. Elias was a fullgrown man of thirty-five when, in the fall of 1814 he married Lucy, a daughter of Benjamin and Abigail Burgess. Of the eight children born of this union, the third, who arrived on November 3rd, 1819, was christened Benjamin Howe.

Benjamin Howe Gullin became the father of the Gullin business when, at the age of twenty-eight, he opened a general store in Kentville exactly eighty-six years after the arrival of his planter great-grandfather Isakial in Nova Scotia. (Here is a point worth noting by anyone interested in the vagaries of human generations.) The eighty-six years elapsing between the beginnings of the Gullins in Nova Scotia and in business spanned four generations of the family, from the Annamallis Grantee's thirty-third year to his great-grandson Benjamin's twenty-eight; and at the full century of the Gullin commercial history spans only three generations and leaves the third to judge by appearances--with at least fifty years still to go.

Benjamin Howe Gullin was born on the paternal farm at Colchester and stayed with it for twenty years. He was only seven when he told his parents and slightly older brother Isakial that he did not think the farm was being farmed and managed to the best advantage. Only when they agreed with him. He, too, was of the practical turn of mind; and his opinion carried such weight with his husband that Benjamin was permitted to put his ideas of farm management into operation. In one year he proved their wisdom; and after two more years of control he presented his parents with three hundred dollars and an unrecorded mortgage on the farm of a well collared mortgage.

"But I've turned my last season in pitched by last load of hay," he announced, "I'm through with this kind of farming--the blisters and backbreaking and so it--for good and all."

Benjamin traveled to Nashville on foot. For the next three years he worked for a small store, a store-keeper and member of the provincial legislature, for board and lodging and five Nova Scotia dollars a month. But the board and bed were Nova Scotia too, which meant eating often and largely of the best and choicest of fashions. That he continued to wear blisters and backaches is probable; but as he was acquiring a commercial education at the same time, it is to be said that he was working his way through college. Then the store employment he went to Halifax and got a job with the storekeeper of the city of Halifax, a firm with a large country trade. He went well for two years, and Benjamin might have completed another three-year period of his commercial training. But at the end of his contract he was offered a job with the manager of a large store in Halifax. He accepted it, and on Friday evening he was packing up boxes of goods in rolls of five yards for Saturday's customers, the manager came along and told him, (after checking on the close of hand), that it was the store's policy to roll up five-yard rolls with four and a half yards of goods, and to follow the three hundred and sixteen.

"I'll be done if I do!" exclaimed Benjamin, slapping the yard-stick down on the counter and grabbing his coat.

Benjamin then returned to Halifax and was hired by Mr. Benjamin Bodsworth of Upper York Village, a general trader in a big way of business. Benjamin's brain was still working with his old, and usually sound, ideas. One of the best of these was suggested to, and accepted by, his employer, with the result that the business of shipping Nova Scotia potatoes to the coast had a in unknown-load lots raised the receptive Mr. Bodsworth thirty-five thousand dollars in the five years of Benjamin's employment. Feeling that he had done his duty by his employer and was now qualified to do the same by himself, Benjamin found a partner and opened a general store in Antville, with Calvin L. Higgins on the sign over the door. This was the summer of 1896.

The partnership of Calvin L. Higgins came undone within the year, leaving Benjamin free Calvin to carry on single-handed under his own name. That was one hundred years ago in 1917. This was the beginning of the present single-handed Calvin business.

Benjamin and his first wife, Julia Lavina Higgins had no children. His second wife was a young girl, Mary Lorington; and their first child was christened Thomas Lorington, son of Benjamin and Julia L. Higgins. Benjamin prospered in Antville, but quietly. His original store increased gradually with increasing stock and staff, but it was not until 1907, twenty years after the birth of the business, that he moved his establishment to premises on the right of the present Calvin block.

Thomas Lorington Calvin, son of the founder of the firm and great-grand-son of the founder of the family in Nova Scotia, entered the business after his graduation from Victoria College in 1876. When he left him for further schooling a little later, some people may have thought that he would follow in the steps of his uncle John Higgins Calvin, who eventually added 1100 to his small business and became known as one of Nova Scotia's leading exporters. But that was not going to be his destiny. He travelled far the course in balling and travelling and travelling at various times and colleges, McGill College, or both. With the various degrees in his pocket, he came back to Antville and the general store, despite an offer of a clerkship in the first National Bank of New York. And now a period of readjustment began in which the Calvin business came out much of its present character. After all, he was not at all together and separately, and evidently with a great deal of standing, even if not always in a direct line with other points. The son took over and devoted himself to the hardware side, leaving the father and founder to the management of the other side of the business, with the result that the firm of Calvin, now in his early thirties, began working with one hand while ordering the other. He sold his dry goods stock and took to the hardware and set up a shop in business with his brother and son and a man's clothing. He continued to manage the grocery and a variety of other things until his brother's death in 1910. During the years of that time he was a clerk in the Halifax and a partner in the firm. He had been in the firm ever since 1896 and had been in it since 1896 to the end of his life. He was a very good man.

remaining green peas and hay and potatoes to William Lockwell and calling it a day?

The Collin firm opened a branch store in Midleton in 1892. By this time it was concerned with hardware only, wholesale and retail. In 1907, Thomas Harrington Collin's eldest son and Charles's grandson entered the family business in the person of Roy Harrington Collin, the present head of T. C. Collin, Ltd., and in 1924 a second grandson of the founder, Arthur L. Collin, came in and took control of the firm's retailing activities at the Kentville headquarters and wherever else it did business.

Just which young man Arthur L. Collin started as a country store exactly one hundred years ago in 1847, has grown from village to provincial proportions and changed vastly in outward seeming, but its character remains that of the lad who refused, by dam, not to short-change a customer.

1. Thomas Harrington Collin, born 1860 and died 1912, married Elizabeth Agnes Ogilby, daughter of George Ogilby and Agnes Ogilby of Charlottetown, P. E. I., November 1886. This line follows the Kentville, N.S., Canada line up to Elias in the 7th generation. You will note that this line is descended from John Burgess Callin of the 6th generation while the Kentville line is descended from Benjamin Howe Callin of the same generation.

William Bonville Callin was born in Kentville, N.S., but after his marriage to Mary Acker, moved back to the U.S.A., where John Burgess Callin, Jr., and his sister Veronica Belle, were born. This John Burgess Callin was the first child of the Nova Scotia line to be born back in the U. S. A.

The ancestors of these Nova Scotia lines were Ann Dewey's children, Isabel's first wife. Isabel married again after Ann Dewey died but just who his second wife was has never been proven up to this time. Some records say that she was Anne Hamilton LeCliff, and that upon Isabel's death, Abira married her as his second wife, but this seems to be doubted.

John Burgess Callin is a Chemical Consultant with a large firm at 500-5th Ave., New York City, although he spends a great part of his time as a Professor of Chemistry at the University of Maine, in Orono, Maine. He also has a home in Birmingham Centre, Mass.

This line is another of our Canadian lines (Maritime Provinces), it is similar to those in Nova Scotia but they are descended from Alfred's son Elias, while this line is from Elias' brother Edmund.

Robert deLois Callins, sr. was born in Beltsford, N. B., Canada, and his wife Ethel ne Chambers was born in Sackville, N. B. They moved to the United States in 1900, and settled in Lebanon, Conn., from which Isidore had emigrated in 1760.

Robert deLois Callins, Jr. was born in Lebanon, Conn., he worked his way and graduated from William Mary College and Stanford University. He lived in Florida from 1911-13, Williamsburg, Va., from 1913-25, Stanford, Cal. 1925-32, Berkeley, Cal. 1932-41, New York City 1941-52, and Washington, D. C. 1952- the present time (1956). He is President of the Eno Kings Institution in Washington, which is a Research Institution.

Robert Jr., was formerly Dean of the College of Commerce of the University of California, Dean of Columbia University's School of Business in New York City and Director of the General Education Board of that college.

I have not been able up to this time to get the balance of data on any other members of the families of the last few generations as Robert is a very busy man and does not seem to have the necessary time to go through his papers, in order to furnish me with this, although he is very interested in anything about the family and has done much research of his own at all the different points in New England and the Maritime Provinces.

Should I be fortunate to obtain the missing information on the last few generations of this line, I shall add some at a later date.

This is the line of Grace Callin Trundy of Presque Isle, Maine, and is directly connected with Dr. James Odiah's family of Sackville, N. B. (whose line follows this) as Charles was a brother of Dr. James Odiah, making their children, cousins.

Charles and his family lived in Portland, Maine, but Grace Callin, after marriage to Dr. Levi Trundy, moved to Presque Isle, Maine, where Dr. Trundy is a Dentist. Charles was Supt. of the B & A Ry. at Portland, Maine.

Elizabeth Kathleen Trundy married Lieut. Caleb Kendall Wheeler who was a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force and was killed over Hungary six months later. She then married Ralph Foster Verill two years later.

Sam Trundy now lives in Augusta, Maine.

The Samuel, listed as a brother of Grace, had two sons, Neil and Sam. My original record showed them at Camden, N. J. It seems that Sam, Jr., did not wish to remain in Maine, so left, after which he married but is no longer in N. J. The folks in Maine are very anxious to locate them.

Dr. James Obediah Callin was a Physician and Surgeon in Saskatoon, N. B., Canada. His father and mother, Samuel J. and Mary Jane Cross, lived with him for some years prior to their deaths.

Dr. James Obediah's son, Colonel James Ryan Callin, A.C., A.D., is a Veteran of the First and Second World Wars. He now lives in Woodstock, N. B., Canada.

Attention is called to the close connection between this line and that of Mr. George H. Wells (Eighth Line). Descendants of either line had no knowledge of this.

Samuel James Callin lived in Hillsboro, Albert Co., N. B., and later in Saskatoon with his son.

Charles, son of Samuel lived in Portland, Maine.

In this line, in the 5th and 6th generation, Jeremiah accompanied by his wife and two small sons, sailed from New London, Conn., in the summer of 1768, for Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, Canada, as members of the large contingent of 7000 that were called the New England Planters and were given the vacated lands of the Acadians. This land with its improvements was sold at bargain prices and the purchasers were considered very fortunate. James, who was 31 years old when they left Connecticut, became the father of seven children, one of whom, a daughter Temperance, married Levi Wells and they were the parents of John Calvin Wells, grandfather of George A. Wells. James, a brother of Temperance married Ann Wells, sister of Levi Wells, which doubly tied this line.

John S. Colkin moved from Nova Scotia to Lunenburg, N. S., about 1810-1815 and settled upon a so-called Colkin Grant, identified in the period prior to 1900 by the Colkin cemetery and Baptist church, known in the 1800's as the Colkin meeting house. In this cemetery are buried all or most all of the Colkin and Mills families prior to 1895-1900. Mr. Pitt says he was quite familiar with the names and family plots during the period 1887-1890. The present condition of the markers, etc., is a state of semi-collapse and in many cases the stones are not legible.

In the company that sailed from New London, there was also a second cousin of Jeremiah, Nehiel by name, and descendants of his are still found in New Brunswick and around Montville, Nova Scotia.

The Coltrin family married into all the old families of Lower Cape, such as the Bennett, Reid, Wells, Peck and Calhoun families.

James was the owner of the Callin Grant at Lower Cayo. The cemetery was first used 1815-1820.

When James and other members of the family moved to New Brunswick in the 1790's and located on the Galloway Grant at Hopewell Cove (Lower Cove), the record then deals with the Galloway and other representative families of what is now Albert County, N. B.

James, while a resident of Nova Scotia, married Elizabeth Dickson, who was born in Lyme, Conn. Five children were born to them in Nova Scotia, the youngest two sons were born in New Brunswick. Elizabeth Dickson was the daughter of Ebediah Dickson, who was the son of Christopher. The American history of the Dicksons seems to correspond closely with that of the Gullin family. Rupert J. Gullin, formerly of Boston, Mass., who died at the home of his daughter in California, says, he can remember his grandfather telling him that his mother was a small "wiry" little woman. She died sitting in her armchair at the age of 91, and is buried in the Gullin cemetery beside her husband, James, who had died 27 years earlier.

The Gullin tract of land extended fully a half-mile along the highway and about a mile in front the shore of Longdy Bay. It embraced about 180 acres of valuable dyked marshland, lying along the shores of the Gullin Brook, so-called. The inland hills were of gravelly texture, not ideal farmland. The original tract was later divided by James between the three living children - Temperance receiving a portion lying along the highway & west of the creek. Back of hers to the south was James, Jr.'s portion. Ebediah, as the youngest living son, inherited the homestead of some 600 acres extending northwest to the holdings of the Gullings. In 1823 he married Mary Gulling, daughter of a neighbor.

Ebediah was a small man, not over 5' 6" tall and probably never weighed over 125 pounds, but he was "all nerve", and always active. As a young man he was a Captain of the Hopedale Militia and active in the Parish Church, since known as the Gullin Meeting House, the land being given by the family. Rupert Gullin remembered clearly the edifice and its, to us, noticeable characteristics. Nearly as wide as long the Meeting House was two stories high; it had two quite elaborate front doors from a stoop across the front. The stoop divided the main floor into four sections of box pews, one row on each side wall and a double row in the center. The pews were closed in by doors. Each pew had seats on two, some three, sides. The division of the pews made the seat backs perfectly straight and not conducive to sound sleeping. The second story formed a gallery on three sides and was reached by two flights of stairs. The seating capacity must have been high. The pulpit, quite elaborately paneled, was shaped like a goblet on a stem and was reached by stairs. Heating was by individual charcoal burners which must have been very ineffective in that cold climate. However, the minister probably preached hell-fire to warm himself and his congregation. The only Baptist church in the north end of the Parish until around 1875, the congregation was gathered from several miles around. The churchyard across the principal burying ground for the prominent families of the locality. Here are buried members of the Gullin, Cook, Wells, Dickson, Aid, Bennett, Brewster and other families, well known throughout.

In 1866 this building was replaced by a small one, still standing.

As Ebediah's family married off, he divided the farm, each son receiving a portion and building a home thereon. However, the unending trend of American society's on took them to other fields. About 1865 the old homestead was sold by Ebediah Gullin and the original Gullin tract passed from the family: but for many years thereafter was known as the "Gullin place", the "Gullin mill", the "Gullin bridge", "Gullin marsh", "Gullin rock", and of course, the "Gullin Meeting House".

Walking through this once prosperous and potentially irreplaceable section as late as 1939, Rupert Gullin states, they found it desolate and largely abandoned - very saddening to the heart of a native son. This is caused by lack of market. This naturally grand section will some day be rediscovered and again pioneered.

The family of Ebediah consisted of nine children, the two oldest died young. Rebecca born 1829, had two daughters, Mary Abelia, and Cortrude. Daniel had five sons, William, James Ebediah, Cornelius, Charles and Samuel, Jr. Ebediah had five, as follows: George, Rupert, Esther, Byron and Nellie. Maria had eight children: Aaron, Mary, Mary, Bessie, Lottie, John, Robert and Nellie. Mary Ann had five: Arthur, Richard, Mary, Cortrude and Lanche. Rachel left one daughter, Mary Eliza.

George E. Wells supplied most of this information and compiled same when, together with a professional historian, he made a search of the Gullin, Gullin and Wells families. He had his book privately printed and it developed into a five pound volume, which he dedicated to his two sons. It is added to the New York Public Library, 5th Ave. New York City. E. Wells is a retired engineer but still has an office at 67 Wall St., N.Y.C. This data is his Israel, Jr. and Helen Topling went to Salt Lake City, Utah, from Iowa.

In this line, Israel Galkins, Chauncey Ira and James Wood, were all born in New York State.

Israel Galkins was born at Oolong, Dutchess Co., N. Y. He lived in Franklin Co., Vt., Albany, Hartford, Hebron and Westfield, N. Y. Later in Illinois, Missouri and Iowa. He and part of his family and their families joined the Mormon Church soon after it was organized and they came West with a group of Mormons around 1840.

The next record of Israel was in the Fall of 1846, when he and his son Chauncey Ira and family became disgusted with the Mormon Church as they did not believe in the practice of bigamy and they, with others, left Council Bluffs, Iowa, where the Mormons were camping while on their way West. Israel and Chauncey Ira went to Atchison Co., Mo., in 1846, then settled in Fremont Co., Iowa, where he died in 1848 and is buried in Mount Olive Cemetery, near Hamburg, Iowa, where many of his descendants have been laid to rest since. His second wife was Hannah Wiley, his first cousin, widow of Elijah Wiley and daughter of John Galkins and Hannah Cole. From all reports, she was a very fine woman and an excellent wife and mother.

Israel Galkins, Sr., and Susan Hopkins Galkins and their families went to Salt Lake, Utah.

Chauncey Ira Galkins was born in Hebron, N. Y., son of Israel Galkins and Mary Riggs. He was married at Andes, Erie Co., N. Y., to Sarah Hollogg of Saratoga, N. Y. She was the daughter of Jacob Hollogg and Elizabeth Wood. His name was among the long list of Mormons in the Fall of 1839, when there were to leave Freedom, Saratoga Co., N. Y. in the spring of 1840. The next record was in early 1846 when their three eldest sons and their cousin Edwin Galkins, son of Susan Hopkins Galkins and Amos Schumann, enlisted in the Mormon Battalion and left Council Bluffs, Iowa, to serve in the Mexican War. In the Fall of 1846 he, his family and his father moved to Atchison Co., Mo., and in the spring of 1848 they settled on his farm two miles north of Hamburg, Iowa, where he died.

James Wood Galkins was born near Albany, N. Y. He enlisted in Co. "A" of the Mormon Battalion in 1846 to serve in the Mexican War and was given a medical discharge in 1847, returning to his home, then in Atchison Co., Mo., moving to Fremont Co., Iowa, the next spring. He married 1850, Eliza Jane Gilmore, daughter of Nathaniel Gilmore of Hamburg, Iowa. They later moved to a claim in Fremont Co., near Liverton, Iowa, getting the deed on it 10/15/1855, where all their ten children were born and raised. He sold out in Iowa in 1890, then bought a ranch, nine miles northeast of Arkansas City in Cowley Co., Kansas, where both died. He died suddenly with a heart attack 10/24/1898, and she died 1/3/1900, after being bedridden with rheumatism for three years. Jennie Richards says some of her fondest childhood memories were going to Grandma and Grandpa's. They were both fine Christian people, very kind and good, well liked and highly respected by their many friends and neighbors. He was a 33rd Degree Mason. Both were laid to rest in the Parker Cemetery, east of Arkansas City, Kansas.

Willard Galkins is now living in Goodland, Kansas.

Alva Galkins and his wife are both deaf mutes.

Israel William Galkins was born near Liverton, Iowa. He was married in 1883 at Keokuk, Iowa, to Letchia Grey, who was born in 1862 in Glasgow, Scotland, daughter of Henry Grey and Jane Wood. They lived in Fremont Co., Iowa, on a farm, then moved to Cowley Co., Kansas 3/17/1891 and bought a farm 7 1/2 miles northeast of Arkansas City, on which he passed away suddenly with a stroke 10/26/1908 at the age of 50 years, leaving his wife, three sons and one daughter (Jennie Richards) very sad and lonely. Jennie says he was always a kind and loving husband and one of the best fathers that ever lived. She believes that he did not have an enemy. His wife passed away, after being bedridden for two years, 8/10/1936. Both were laid to rest in the Parker Cemetery, east of Arkansas City. "Hi for the touch of vanished hands and the sound of voices that are still."

Jennie Galkins, born 4/28/1890 in Fremont Co., near Liverton, Iowa, at her grandparents' home, was brought to Cowley Co., Kansas, 7 1/2 miles northeast of Arkansas City 3/17/1891. Jennie lived on farms in Cowley Co., Kansas until 1932, then moved to Arkansas City. She first came to California in 1946. Since that time she has been visiting her children in Washington, Massachusetts and Kansas at several different times but hopes to make California her home. She married Cecil E. Nickords in 1909 and divorced him in 1939, she had nine children and has twelve grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Jennie Nickords lived in South Gate, California but in 1955 went back to Arkansas City.

This line is closely related to Jennie Richards of South Gate, California, but now living in Arkansas City but in the 7th generation is descended from Israel, Jr. while the colored line is from Ramsey Co. Israel was born in Hartford, N. Y., which is in Washington County. He was the son of Israel Calkin and Mary Griggs, while his wife was the daughter of of Lyman Wheeler and Martha Palmer.

Israel, Jr. and his wife came to Missouri from New York about 1840 with a group of Mormons but were living in Nevada, Ill., when Joseph Smith, the founder of the Mormon Church, was murdered. In the fall of 1845 they started west under the leadership of Brigham Young, they stopped at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and stayed there until 1851, then he took his family by ox team to Utah, settling in Layton, where he died in 1884. He was a very successful farmer, owning three large farms at his death. He was especially interested in horticulture and set out all kinds of fruit trees on each of his farms, that could thrive in that climate, some of the grove were still bearing fruit in 1909. He divided the farms to his three daughters before his death as each son owned a large farm in Idaho at that time.

Caroline Clarissa Calkin was born in Council Bluffs, Iowa, and was brought to Utah when only a few months old. After marrying David Sullivan Sullivan, they lived in Idaho, she died in Grace, Idaho, at the home of her son David L. Jr., she had been a widow for several years.

Julia L. Sullivan was born in Payson, Idaho, and married Guy H. Greene, she taught school for thirty years before she married and served a term as a state representative from Idaho. She now lives at 125 S. St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

The first person bearing the name of Leimona was a sister of Leimona Wheeler, nee A. A. Lacey, who lived in Oregon, and gave considerable data to William H. Calkin for his military history, was a sister of Edwin Charles Calkin, both children of Lyman Hopkins Calkin.

Julia Greene, at this writing, is 84 years old, and does all her own housework, even the laundry, and takes care of her husband, who has a very weak heart and is sometimes bedridden, but at present, both are feeling pretty well. She has auburn hair with very little grey in it. She is still a Mormon but none of her family were married more than once. They are both fine people.

Several names in this family are on a Plaque at the side of the Capitol in Salt Lake City, all Calkins who served in the Mexican War.

You will note that Israel, Jr.'s, sister Martha, married John Adam Fillmore. This and one other instance, which I have not about it as yet, is where the Fillmore family married into the Calkin family as I am told by William H. Fillmore of Spanish Fork, Utah, also a member of the Mormon Church.

This information was supplied by Julia Greene through her cousin Mrs. Jennie Richards, of South Gate, California, Jennie now lives in Arkansas City, Kansas.

The Monument to the "Mormon Battalion" is located behind the trees at the right of the State Capitol in Salt Lake City and bears the names of Sylvanus Calkin, Alva Hanson Calkin, James Abel Calkin, and Edward Charles Calkin who was a cousin to the first three.

This Monument was erected in honor of the "Mormon Battalion" which in 1846 was enlisted from the Mormon emigrants then travelling west to find a home in the Rocky Mountain. The Battalion marched over 2,000 miles to California to defend the United States in the war with Mexico. This is conceded to be the longest Infantry march in history.

This branch of the family is descended from the members of the Calkin families that lived in Upper New York State and who joined the Mormons and went West and settled in Utah.

Mr. William Rosland Fillmore is a member of the American Institute of Genealogy of Chicago, Ill. and the Utah Genealogical Society.

Mr. Fillmore claims that in the Archives in Salt Lake City, Ann, the wife of the original Hugh, is listed as Ann Eston and also that the name Susan, which is not generally given, is listed as one of the children of Hugh and Ann.

Mr. Fillmore works for the California Packing Co. at a large plant they have in Spanish Fork, Utah, which handles the packing of most of the Del Monte brand products and seems a very nice person, interesting and with a sense of humor. He, with his sons and grandsons go fishing each year, also hunting for deer, and pack some in Cold Storage Lockers for the year's use.

Mr. Fillmore, in the following explains something about the Mormon Church and what they believe:

"So as Latter Day Saints believe that we existed in a spirit world before we came here. Our life here is just a probationary period in which we are to prepare ourselves so that we can go back to our Maker after death and live in His presence again in the Celestial Kingdom. We believe there are three degrees of glory in the Celestial Kingdom; and our efforts here in this life as Latter Day Saints is to try and live so that we will inherit the highest degree of glory. By our own actions and our endeavours to help our fellowmen we hope to reach that goal. We believe we are indeed our brothers keeper and try to live accordingly. We have been instructed in the Doctrine and Covenants that we must save our kindred dead who died before the Church was organized. To obtain the highest degree of glory we must all be sealed together as one big family. We are told that man cannot be saved alone; he must have his wife and children.

We claim to hold the Holy Priesthood of God (this is the authority to act in the name of God, while here on this earth.)

We believe in baptism by immersion for the remission of sins. (Everyone who is a member of our Church must be baptized.)

Before he can enter our Temples to do work: he must be a man and hold the Priesthood. He has to be a member of good standing; and goes to the Temple only on a written recommendation from the Bishop of the Ward wherein he resides.

Before we can do work for our dead: a family group sheet must be made up and sent to the Index Bureau in Salt Lake City. The Index Bureau checks the information on the sheet - especially the death and birth dates - of the person for whom you desire to do the work. If no death date is known, then the work cannot be done until 100 years have elapsed since his or her birth. If the person was born since the Church was organized in 1830; then a baptismal certificate or the date thereof must be shown. If the person was born before 1830, then he or she must be baptized vicariously (by proxy). When this is done then someone can take the name and go through the Temple Session and get the endowments. The person who is taking the name through must be washed, anointed, and ordained to the priesthood. (Women do not have to hold the priesthood.)

The endowment is a sacred ordinance; preparing the person for the right to the Celestial Kingdom. (All members going through are under sacred obligations and must promise never to divulge or discuss the endowment outside the Temples.) However, I can tell you this much. In going through the beautiful Temples you must be dressed in white Temple clothes, from shoes to caps. During the ceremony you are taken through several rooms as follows; first the creation room (where the six creative periods of the world are explained); second in the garden room (which represents the Garden of Eden.) Then the world room which represents the lone and dreary world (or the world in which we now live.) Fourth the veil room (which shows the veil between this world and the world to come; after proper procedure each person is permitted to pass through the veil into the Celestial room, which represents the home of our Heavenly Father. (This is indeed beautiful beyond all description.) In this room marriages and sealings are performed.

It takes a providentially 4 hours to go through a Temple Session, and three sessions are completed every day except Saturday, Sunday and holidays. You can only do one endowment a session or three in one day, if you wish to stay all day. The sessions are all exactly alike, except you are going through for a different person each time. Our Temples are crowded at all times, some times hardly standing room. Many thousands of names are being taken through each year for the work of the dead.

In the sealing rooms are several plush covered alters and here the work is done. Now suppose my wife and I were going through for a couple who are dead, then this is the procedure: after going through and getting the endowments for them, then we kneel at the altar and are married for time and eternity, (by one who has the authority and has been delegated to do this work.) Then suppose this couple had six children born to them; then it would take six more persons who kneel around the altar with us and then each one is sealed to us, for time and eternity.

Now you will see on the sheets that I have sent you, and when all this work has been done perhaps you will have some idea of what it all means. It means that someone else who is a member of our Church and is also related to the same families as you are has done this work for their kindred dead; and have considered it their sacred obligation to have done so; so they all can be together in the world to come".

The Articles of Faith of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

1. We believe in God, the eternal Father, and in His Son, Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost.
2. We believe that men will be punished for their own sins, and not for Adam's transgression.
3. We believe that through the atonement of Christ, all mankind may be saved, by obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel.
4. We believe that the first principles and ordinances of the Gospel are: (1) Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; (2) Repentance; (3) Baptism by immersion for the remission of sins; (4) Laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost.
5. We believe that a man must be called of God, by prophecy, and by the laying on of hands, by those who are in authority, to preach the Gospel and administer in the ordinances thereof.
6. We believe in the same organization that existed in the primitive Church, viz: Apostles, prophets, pastors, teachers, evangelists, etc.
7. We believe in the gift of tongues, prophecy, revelation, visions, healing, interpretation of tongues, etc.
8. We believe the Bible to be the word of God, as far as it is translated correctly; we also believe the Book of Mormon to be the word of God.
9. We believe all that God has revealed, all that he does now reveal, and we believe that he will yet -- (ever torn but seems to be) reveal more, many great and important things pertaining to the Kingdom of God.
10. We believe in the literal gathering of Israel and in the restoration of the Ten Tribes; that Zion will be built upon this (the American) continent; that Christ will reign personally upon the earth and that the earth will be renewed and receive its paradisiacal glory.
11. We claim the privilege of worshipping Almighty God according to the dictates of our own conscience, and allow all men the same privilege, let them worship how, where and what they may.
12. We believe in being subject to kings, presidents, rulers, and magistrates, in obeying, and sustaining the law.
13. We believe in being honest, true, chaste, benevolent, virtuous, and in doing good to all men; indeed, we may say that we follow the admonition of Paul -- we believe all things, we hope all things, we have endured many things, and hope to be able to endure all things. If there is anything virtuous, lovely, or of good report or praiseworthy, we seek after these things.

This line was originally, all in New York State, but more particularly in Erie and Dutchess Counties and Miss Charlotte A. Calkins still lives on Clean Road, East Aurora, N. Y. which is in Erie County. However, Judson Wells Calkins moved to Evansville, Wis., and Dr. Delevan Calkins is a Physician and Surgeon in St. Louis, Mo.

Joshua Calkins, brother of Isaac Rowley Calkins was living in Granville or Truthville, N. Y. when the first Baptist Church was organized August 18th, 1784, and Joshua, Mercy, Israel, Mary, Caleb and Eleazar Calkins were members.

The early Calkins in Upper New York State settled in a circuit of 8 to 10 miles around Granville, N. Y. of whom Joshua Calkins, son of Aaron Calkins was one. See U. S. Census 1790.

Joshua settled in Portage, Wis. in 1856. Descendents now in Los Angeles.

There was a David, supposed to be a brother of Joshua who went to Iowa in 1865.

The father of Frances Treat was born in Wells, Vt. in 1787 and at the age of 21 years walked from Vermont to the vicinity of East Aurora with a bag of potato eyes, his only wealth, on his back.

The father of Delevan Calkins the 1st, originally of Dutchess County, N.Y. was living in Connecticut before 1775, moved to Erie County, N. Y. about 1810.

Charlotte A. Calkins claims that her great great grandfather, David Calkins, was a resident of Dutchess County, N. Y. where Caleb and Jemima Calkins were born and that she is convinced that he was the David Calkins who signed the Pledge of Patriots in 1775. Also that her great grandfather Caleb was born in Dutchess County and his half brother Israel, son of David and Pricilla Burgess also stated that he was born in Dutchess County in 1766. The first son of David who gave his birthplace as Conn. was Elisha, who said he was born in Conn. in 1775.

David Calkins married an unknown third wife, by whom he had a son known as David of Kent. One, Cornelius Calkins, son of David of Kent, said he had a brother Matthias born 1763. (compare)

Julia Clinch Calkins was born in Saint Andrews, N. B. She and Judson Wells Calkins met and were married in Wisconsin, where their family was raised.

Marion Calkins Merrell lives in McLean, Virginia, and writes under the name of Clinch Calkins and her most recent novel (at this writing) is the "Calendar of love" which was published by Simon Schuster on September 30th, 1952.

Further information on this line may be forthcoming.

In order to make a comparison between David of Kent and Cornelius, with Matthias, the children of David and his second wife, Pricilla Burgess are hereby listed: Matthias b. 1763, Israel b. 1766, Elisha b. 1775, Martha (Baker) b. --, Fnebe (Shaw) b. --, Liddy (May) b. --, Tabitha (Coslin) b. --, a son m. Ruth --. (Marriage names in brackets.)

Caleb b. 1757 and his first wife Mary Beckwith had four children: Judson, Caleb, Felix R. b. 1781 m. Jane Putnam, David b. 1789 m. Patience Snow or Doane.

Caleb's second wife Elizabeth Doane had four children by a previous marriage: Hannah m. Daniel Jones, Betsy m. Judson Rouse, Mary m. Samuel Calkins and Tabitha m. Daniel Calkins.

The following record accompanied the record of this line which originated in Connecticut, after which they settled in Washington Co., N.Y., and from there moved to Seneca Co., Michigan, in 1841.

Hugh Gullin, the emigrant, first appears on record as one of a party of Welsh colonists led by the Rev. Richard Dimsen, which settled, first at Ashfield, in the Plymouth Colony late in 1636. In 1642, this party moved to Gloucester, in the Bay Colony and in 1661 to "Wormettles", now New London in Conn. Colony. This latter place became the point from which the descendants spread abroad through Conn. for three or four generations. Families are still to be found at New London and nearby towns. Robert Joyce was also one of the Welsh Party. Authorities say that this Party included many outstanding men. Hugh Gullin seems to have been an individual of special abilities, and took a leading part in the public affairs of the localities in which he resided. It appears that this party was induced to immigrate to America by the representations of Edward Winslow, sometimes Governor of Plymouth Colony and its representative in England from time to time. Winslow seems to have been the legal counsel and ambassador of the Colony in England. It is obvious the party came as a self-organized party and was free from indentured obligations.

For the current authority on Hugh, John and the elder Israel, consult the Public Records of New London, Norwich, Lebanon and Lebanon, Conn. The references to them are abundant and permit ready conclusions concerning them for they were leading citizens in their respective communities, they appear also in several published works. Their family records are fairly complete.

In reference to names mentioned in this line, as wives, etc., the following notes are given:

Martha, born May 5, 1703 was a daughter of Josiah Strong and his wife Joanna Gillett of Colchester, Conn. Josiah Strong was a son of John Strong, Jr. of Andover, Conn. and his second wife Elizabeth Harriman and was born Jan. 11, 1678 and died Jan. 5, 1759, aged 80 years, at Colchester, Conn. John Strong, Jr. was the oldest son of Elder John Strong, the emigrant, and was born in England in 1626 and died at Andover, Conn. Feb. 24th, 1696, aged 72 years.

Joanna Gillett, born Oct. 28, 1666, was the daughter of Josiah Strong and Joanna Gillett Painter, of Windsor, Conn. The marriage of Josiah Strong and Joanna Gillett was on Jan. 5th, 1698. Josiah was a farmer at Andover, Conn. and after 1704 and 5 at Colchester, Conn.

See also New England Historical and Genealogical Register 23, Page 326 and Volume 53, Page 231. See also Historical Memoirs of Colony of New Plymouth by Frances Baylies, Part 7, Page 285.

Betsy Lucas is said by tradition to have been of Dutch antecedents, which may mean German. Possibly she was of Palatine-German descent but her origin is obscure.

The writer is disposed to look toward the Palatine emigration of 1709, 1710 and 1711 for the name Lucas appears among the emigrants. The name Lucke is also found and may have been Americanized in the usual free manner.

Records of Aaron and Hannah references are: Record of Birth at Hebron, Conn. Death at Albany Baptist Church, Dutchess Co., N.Y. and other mention. Much family tradition.

Most of the Welsh Party could be located at Chapstow but Hugh was not one of them. My belief is that Hugh may have been an acquaintance of Edward Winslow from some other place. Winslow was, himself, a Welshman from Froitwich in Worcester and was the usual Agent of Plymouth in England.

Samuel was a party to many Deeds at Lebanon, Hebron, Colchester and Sharon.

Not a great deal is known about any members of this line except that given above. Most of this was compiled with help, by Myrtle Calkins, of Tulsa, Okla.

This line brings in an entirely new branch from about the 5th Generation.

Doubt has arisen regarding this line as records recently gone through seem to show no Thomas, a son of Joseph and Deborah Crip on and no his River in Vermont. This is being searched.

This line from Hugh to Elijah is similar to lines in Kansas, Idaho, Utah and Oklahoma.

Stephen, of the fourth generation, owned lot 31 in Sharon, Conn. He helped found the town, being one of the original proprietors.

I had considerable correspondence with Mrs. Sharps and she did a great amount of work on the Galtin family. This was originally started at the time she was searching to establish her line for membership in the E. A. R. She put together six books, weighing 45 pounds (1 case leaf) which are in various libraries, namely, The New York Genealogical and Biographical Society Library in New York City, The New England Historical and Biographical Society Library in Boston, Mass., New York State Library at Albany, N. Y., The Connecticut State Library at Hartford, Conn., The Genealogical Society at Salt Lake City, Utah, and the Library of Congress at Washington, D. C. All her books were made up from Original Records, births, deaths, marriages, wills and land records.

The following is a copy of the notice from the Fairfield paper of her death:-

"Mrs. Helen Sharps dies at 78"

Date May 20, 1954

"Mrs. Helen Fanny Sharps, 78, of 65 Old Post Road, died May 20 in her home following an illness of several weeks.

Services for Mrs. Sharps, former Treasurer of the Fairfield Historical Society for many years, were held Wednesday in her late residence, with the Rev. Oliver D. Corbary, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial was in Fairfield East Cemetery.

Mrs. Sharps was Treasurer of the Fairfield Garden Club from 1917 to 1942 and served as President of that organization in 1943 and 1944. She was an honorary member and a member of the executive board until her death.

A well known genealogist throughout the country, Mrs. Sharps was a member of the genealogical committee which published the history and genealogy of many Fairfield families, published by D. I. Jacobus. She was a member of the Council of the Fairfield Historical Society, and was an original member of the building committee. She had also served as a representative of the Danice Den in Durr Chapter of the E. A. R.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Ritger, of Fairfield."

I was not in touch with Mrs. Sharps long enough to learn very much of the history, of her line, other than the above but do not believe there was anything outstanding, except for the earlier generations whose names and history should be well remembered by now.

I never had a chance to meet Mrs. Sharps personally, but from her letters she seemed to be a very interesting and likable person.

The early settlers of this line, having traveled by ox cart from Conn. to Pa. has many branches. They have always been in the vicinity of Millerville but some have found their way into New York State.

Most of the history of this family will be found among the typewritten information sheets, one group of sheets called "The Galkin Family" and also a printed thin colored double sheet with the same heading.

About 1757 Dr. J. M. Galkins settled first at what is now known as Skinner's Falls, on the opposite side of the river from the Black House and the Moses Thomas farm. He afterward removed to Cochocton. Dr. Galkins was born in Lebanon, Conn. and was a doctor of talent and usefulness and was the first doctor in the vicinity of Cochocton, N. Y. One of the Company who came with Dr. Galkins was Bezaleel Tyler, who married his sister and became the father of all the Tylers.

Dr. Galkins was born in 1723, A. D. He became the father of four sons and three daughters. The first born son was John Galkins, born August 1747 settled near Earlville; Oliver, the second son on Cochocton Plate; Moses, at some point on the Chenango River; Abner, on the Mohawk; Abigail, married Capt. Tyler who was killed in the battle of Hill's Expedition; Sarah was the wife of a fur trader and London, the youngest daughter, married a man by the name of Sampson and settled in Ohio.

At 1778, Dr. Galkins and his son Oliver and Capt. Tyler with their families and other ships moved to Vernapack and Cochocton, for safety from the Indians. Oliver Galkins was born in 1756 and in 1775 he married Hannah Thomas, the little girl who managed a gun in the Black House that memorable day and night. (See typed history.)

Oliver Galkins was near Capt. Tyler when he was slain at Miniskie, July 27, 1779. At the close of the battle, Oliver, with his foreman, Mr. Hawthorne, and a few survivors, retreated and found their way back to Vernapack. The next year and his son Oliver and their families and other former residents of Cochocton, N. Y. returned to their homes. The Dr. and his wife returned with their son Oliver until after the latter's death in 1787, then they returned to Salem, Conn., where they lived until their death and were laid to rest in Salem.

In 1763 Oliver purchased lot 463 of the Hardenburg Patent, containing more than 340 acres, but not at the time paying all of the purchase money. The present village of Cochocton is located on that lot. The Hardenburg Patent was granted to Johannes Hardenburg and eight others in 1708 but not surveyed and divided until 1719, when nearly all original patentees were dead but their heirs were enabled to receive equal shares.

Oliver Galkins drowned in the summer of 1787 while herding the river at the head of the flats, near Phillips, N. Y. Previous to his death he had completed a new and commodious dwelling, for those days, which became for many years, the home of his wife and son Moses, and grandson Ezra. That house remained standing until 1875, when it was removed by Ezra and a new and larger dwelling erected on the same site. Oliver was survived by his wife and six children, the youngest being born three months after his father's death.

The children were as follows: Eleanor, born 1776, who became the wife of Ebenezer Tyler, and her daughter married Hon. James Curtis, thus she was the great grandmother of the Curtis and also families of Galkins on Cochocton, also John T. Curtis of Monticello, . . . and many other people in Sullivan County, N. Y. and elsewhere.

Sarah, born 1778 who married Nathan Skinner; Bezaleel, born 1780 who married Mary L. Ross; Abigail, born 1783 who married Charles Irvine; Moses, born 1785 who married Elizabeth Mitchell; Oliver II, born 1787 who married Maria Thomas Smith of Litchfield, Conn. Her father was a teacher in a Boy's school in Litchfield and Oliver and Moses Galkins attended the school. After marriage they settled in Earlville, Chenango Co., N. Y. Their descendants are innumerable and are to be found in every State in the Union.

All but one record reports Dr. Galkins as having seven children but from one source there are no are listed, but this is a matter of doubt. They were: Sally, born 1783; Joel, born 1785 and Benjamin born 1788. This may be cleared up at a later date.

The above information was supplied, along with the printed and typed information, by Mrs. Rose Galkins Lovelace, of Millerville, Pa. who at this writing (1950) is 81 years of age. She is not only a very bright and active

This line was originally compiled only for direct descent from Hugh Calkin to Thomas Vassar Caulkins, Jr., by the Rev. Thomas Vassar Caulkins, D.D. who lived at the time in America, N. Y. but who, at the time of his death, lived in Garden City, L. I., N. Y. Same was compiled in October 1942.

Thomas Vassar Caulkins the 2nd, was in the Insurance business with the Traveler's Insurance Co., in the Empire State Building at 34th St. and 5th Ave., New York City, his family live in Hollis, L. I., N. Y.

Thomas Vassar the 3rd married Leone Lusk Apr. 14, 1952.
Julio Napalje is still single.

Edward Dana Caulkins lives with his family in Scarsdale, Westchester Co., N. Y. and since the original tree was compiled, all three of his children have married, as follows:

Letty to Richard W. Buschirk, on April 12th, 1952.
Mary Locke to Sewell A. Johnson, on Nov. 10th, 1945.
They have two children:
Grace Johnson born July 22, 1948
Carl Johnson " Aug. 12, 1951
David S. to Janet VanHise Davidson, June 16, 1950.
They have one child:
James Robert Caulkins

Carolyn Hahn, daughter of Irene Elizabeth Caulkins n. Daniel H. Jones Sept. 6th, 1951.

Seneca Reed Caulkins n. Caroline Chase Oct. 13, 1938.

A strange thing has happened in this line. Attention is called to the grandchildren of Hugh 1st. You will see where John J. n. Abigail Burchard. Now, note that the Rev. Thomas Vassar Caulkins, father of Thomas Vassar, Jr. married Agnes Burchard.

Also note that the second wife of Hugh, son of John, 3rd generation, was Miss Standish. Some records give her as the daughter of Miles Standish, but I believe, by me more recently gone through, that she was the daughter of Captain Josiah Standish, who was the son of Miles Standish, immortalized by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's poem "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

There are many names of children and grandchildren of all the different names in this family but they are not listed here as they form the many branches of this family in each generation.

The following information was supplied by Earnest Elmo Calkins of 500 Park Ave., New York, N. Y. He is a retired Advertising Executive and Founder of the Advertising firm of Calkins and Haddon (which, since his retirement, has added several other names but still retains the Calkins and Haddon). Their offices are at 247 Park Ave., New York, N. Y. Earnest Elmo is 85 years of age (at this writing, March 1953) and Totally deaf and spends his time on several hobbies, one of which is woodcarving and making ship models. He lives alone but has a housekeeper. He has written several books on advertising, which are in the Public Libraries. His written history of his line follows: Dated 5/26/43

I. Hugh Calkin, earliest American immigrant, b. circa 1600, possibly in Gloucestershire, England; d. Norwich, Conn. 1690.

There are several legends about the history of the Calkins family in Europe. According to a writer in the Historical and Genealogical Register the family is anciently English, the name originally Colkin. A William Colkin lived in King John's reign (1199-1216) and founded a hospital in Canterbury which bore his name, a street in that city is known as Colkin Lane. Also, a place of some note in the Diocese of Canterbury is, or was, Froville (Froidville) that belonged to the Colkin family. William Colkin was one of the barons who wrung the Magna Charta from King John. In the "Rolls" at Canterbury are the names: Willivi Williamus Cockin, 1250; Edmundus Cokyn, 1353.

Among the ancient spellings of the name the following have been found: Colkin, Colken, Coken, Cokun, Calkin, Calkyn, Cokahn, Cokam, Cookin, Coken, Coking, Cockin, Caulen, Colkin, Calkins, Calkins, Carkin, Calkings, Calking, Corkens, Corkins,

In Burke's General Armory the Colkin arms are given: "Argent, a pile Gules." A pile is a support used in the construction of military bridges. (Note: However, in the New York Public Library, they tell me (L. C. Sharling) that the actual translation is, Argent refers to the shield and pile to the stripes, while gules has reference to the knight's head.)

On the other hand a biographical sketch of Franklin Wells Calkins says he was descended from Sir Jean Canton Calquens who in 1666 was granted an estate in Wales. (Gloucester, by the way, is close to the Wales border). And Dr. Holcott Calkins writes with his customary positiveness: "Flemish, not Welsh". He descended from the Flemish weavers driven out of England by Archbishop Laud's persecutions, lingering in Wales only long enough to get passage to America. The name Calkins would be as outlandish to the Welsh language as "Kobelmesser" to the English.

However that may be, Hugh Calkin was the first and only Calkins immigrant to arrive in this country, as far as can be ascertained, and all of the name in this country are descended from him. One writer says he was "a radical in religion, a non-conformist, and living in the troublous times of Charles the first soon became satisfied there was a safer country than England or Wales for a man who wished to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience."

Hugh Calkin came to this country in 1639 with the "Welsh" company, under the leadership of Pastor Richard Mifflin, settled first at Green Harbor, Marshfield, near Plymouth, and became part of the Mayflower Colony. The party removed to Gloucester -- named for Mifflin's birthplace, near Cape Ann, which was possibly named for Hugh's wife, after quarreling with the Plymouth Pilgrims over religious matters. In 1646 the party removed to what is now New London, then known as Lequet, where Deacon Hugh and later his two sons were active in the life of the colony, as the old records show. In 1659 he joined a group of men from both New London and Saybrook to found the town of Norwich with his eldest son, John, while the younger, David, remained on the Calkins farm at Hiantic, near New London.

Hugh was a man of importance in New England. He was made a "freeman" of Massachusetts, and a deputy to the General Court from Gloucester. He was twelve times chosen from New London to the Connecticut Assembly, and ten times to the legislature from Norwich. In each of the three New England towns in which he settled he was active in public affairs, though he had little education, and signed his name with an H. He was particularly known as Deacon Hugh.

The site of Hugh's house in New London may still be identified in An Street, first lot on the south and east end of the street, 6 acres. In 1661 Hugh Calkin sold his house, barn and home lot to William Douglas. A farm was granted him on the Atlantic above Hartford near the old Hopaferry, now called Sandy Point, where David settled when his father and brother departed to found the town of Norwich. At Norwich, on Dean Hill, on the state road from Colchester to Norwich stand the houses possibly built by Hugh and his son John, and nearby is the first burying ground (no name etc) where Hugh and probably John are buried. But on Dean Hill is the so-called "Lason" monument, with the names of the 31 founders of Norwich, among them Hugh Calkin and his son John.

II David Calkin m. Mary Bliss, whose father Thomas Bliss was a fellow pioneer of Hugh's and went with him to the Norwich colony.

III Joseph Calkin, b. 1664; d. 1769; m. Lucretia Turner, great-great-grand-daughter of Elder William Brewster of the Mayflower company, as follows:

William Brewster, m. Mary -----
Jonathan " m. Lucretia Aldham
Mary Aldham m. John Turner
Isackial Turner, m. Susanna Keesey
Lucretia " m. Joseph Calkin

IV William, m. Mary Frontiss, daughter of Stephen Frontiss, a neighbor at Atlantic, near New London, where the farm of David Calkin was situated.

Mary was a descendant of John Rogers who was burned at the stake at Smithfield, London, in 1555, the first Protestant martyr of Queen Mary's reign. His great-grandson, Thomas Rogers, was one of the Mayflower party, so descendants of this line are doubly Mayflower descendants, from William Brewster and Thomas Rogers. The line runs:

John Rogers, b. 1507
Bernard Rogers, b. 1543, who was one of the 10 children in the old print in Webster's spelling book looking on while his father perished at the stake.

V John Frontiss Calkin, m. Sarah Hubbard Harris 1777 (b. New London Feb. 14, 1757; d. Dec. 23, 1852)

John Frontiss Calkin fought in the revolutionary War; moved to New Hampshire (Dunsmuir?), to Vermont (Cady?) 1794; to Ohio 1833; died there age 64, and is buried at Avon. His wife died Dec. 23, 1852 aged 95 years and is buried at Ridgeville, Ohio.

VI Jedediah Calkin m. Sarah Murphy

VII William Clinton Calkin, m. Mary Harriet Hawville of Genesee

The Hawville line, which enters through Harry Hawville, Hugh's great-great grandfather, is also interesting. In the misty background are the famous figures of -

Bernard Mandeville, (1670-1733), author of "The Fable of the Bees", "Treatise of Hypochondriacks" and "Hysterical Passions", etc.

Sir John Mandeville, fourteenth Century, reported author of a famous book of travels, a guide for pilgrims to the Holy Land.

William de Mandeville (d. 1189) Third Earl of Essex and Count of Flanders.

No link with these illustrious predecessors has been established, though the Hawville of Chippewarville asbestos company claims descent.

The authentic history begins with -

I John Hawville, a tailor, from Lienvy, France, who settled in Woodbury, Conn.
II Daniel, b. 1710
III Eliud (also spelled Eliad in old records) b. 1740, who moved to Whitehall, N.Y.
IV Harry, b. 1761, m. Lucy Smith, d. 1816

Harry was one of the nine men who founded the town of Genesee, Ill. to which spot he emigrated in 1836. He had 13 children, as set out on page 47.

Mrs. Charlotte W. Calkins, of Newton, Mass., now deceased, compiled some of the data on this line in 1894, which left a great deal to be completed. She was aided somewhat by Mrs. D. W. Mitch of Jefferson, Ohio.

According to her records, Hugh and the members of the Rev. Blinman's party first came to Hingham, Mass. in 1638, then to Plymouth, Mass. in 1640, then to Gloucester, Mass. where they lived eight years, then New London, Conn., and finally to Norwich, Conn. in 1660, where Hugh died in 1690.

David remained in New London, Conn. when the others went to Norwich. David's son, Joseph, settled in Lyme, Conn.

After Joseph's son, William, died in 1762, his wife, Mary, married Simon Cager and they left Connecticut.

William's son, Frederick, was a seaman and famed for great courage and remarkable strength.

Frederick's son, James B. had two sons (see tree), and it is said that some of the family went to Williamsburg, Va.

William was a Revolutionary soldier and his name is on the Rolls in Connecticut and can be obtained from the Asst. Adj. General, John C. Healy, Hartford, Conn. on payment of $1.00 as fee.

John Prentiss, another son of William, and brother of Frederick, was also a Revolutionary soldier. He lived to be about 84 years of age. Some records say that William lived at least as long but others give the date of his death as 1762, probably correct, due to the fact that Mary is definitely given as marrying again in 1767.

John Prentiss married Sarah Hubbard Harris, daughter of George and Sarah Harris. She was born in New London, Conn. They moved to Canaan, N. H., then Waterbury, Vt., then Avon, Ohio, where they died. They had eleven children:

Sarah, married Rev. Thomas Warren, grandfather of George Warren, Siberian Traveler, of Newark, Ohio.

Charles, married Marian Gilman and was a Congregational Minister in Stowe, Vt., Waterbury, Vt., and died in Ohio. They were the parents of Charles Gilman Calkins of Alheda, California.

George, married Hannah Stebbins, and they were the parents of George Warren Calkins of Cleveland, Ohio.

William, married Delinda Craig and they were the parents of Dr. Wells Calkins of Boston, Allen of Chicago, Ill., and William L. of Ticonderoga, N. Y.

It is noted that Sylvanus Calkins, son of Calvin Calkins, (what connection either Sylvanus or Calvin had with this line is not clear) but -- Sylvanus married Lucretia, daughter of Isaiah Parker, who was aide-de-camp to General Wolf and Sylvanus second wife was Lucretia Yale, daughter of Elihu Yale.

The Rev. Raymond Calkins is a minister in Cambridge, Mass. and lives at 17 Berkeley St., Cambridge, Mass.

Grosvener lived at 42 Farlow Road, Newton, Mass.

This line and that of Earnest Elmo Calkins of New York City and the Turner Calkins line of Upper New York State are closely connected. Descendants of these three lines have no knowledge of this.

Grosvener's daughter Anne M. M. Cook and had three children: Martha b. 1915, John b. 1918, Thomas b. 1952. His daughter Patricia who married James B. Lightbody had six children: Thomas b. 1911, Susan b. 1942, John b. 1944, Richard b. 1945, William b. 1948, and Mary b. 7/17/1952.

The following information on this line was received from Mrs. Elizabeth Callins Hulton of Washington, D. C. and sent from Berkeley, Cal. while she was visiting her parents John Uberto and Harriet Louise Bates Callins in Berkeley.

Beginning with the ninth generation from ancestor Elder Brewster of Mayflower farm, and data taken from Family Bible; entered there by my father, Charles Gilman Callins; it would be wise to consult the Gilman genealogy for absolute accuracy.

Bible: "C.G. Callins is the third child and first son of Charles and Mary Ann Callins, who are now living in Dover, N.H." - This entry was made at Rockport, April 1859.
Bible: "E.L.P. Callins is the third child and second daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Hain Masters--both deceased. Elizabeth H. Masters died at Henderson, V.3., July 26, 1821 - aged 28 years.
 Samuel Masters died at Rockport, Ohio, May 31, 1845, aged 50 years.

Bible: "Rockport, Ohio, July 22, 1848. Charles Gilman died at East Rockport, Ohio March 1877 in his 94th year.

Mary Ann Gilman Callins died at East Rockport, Ohio, January 1875 in the 87th year of her age.

Bible: "Charles C. Callins married Harriet Rebecca Love Masters, June 9th, 1849, at the house of Samuel Masters (the bride's father) by the Rev. S. H. Waldo. She was born at Henderson, N. Y. Feb. 4th, 1827 - died March 7, 1880.

Bible: "They had five children:

Frank Hain Callins, born at Dover, Cayahoga Co., Ohio, Feb. 12, 1848, died at East Rockport, Ohio, Feb. 10, 1865, --unmarried.

Charles Gilman Callins, b. Rockport, Ohio, Mar. 16, 1850 -- died in Berkeley, Cal. Dec. 30, 1916, (He was a Captain in the U.S.).

Samuel Hain Callins, b. at Plymouth, Astabula Co., Ohio, Jan. 19, 1853. -- died Astabula, Ohio, Sept. 23, 1865.

Mary Agusta Callins, b. at Plymouth, Astabula Co., Ohio, Oct. 17, 1859, still living at this date, Sept. 25, 1952.

John Uberto Callins, b. at Astabula, Ohio, May 26, 1863. (Still living at date Sept. 1952.)

At this point entries in the Callins-Gilman Bible (in my possession) cease. Further records came from Family Bible of my wife's (Harriet Bates Callins) where she entered present generations.

Bible: "Charles Callins was married twice. His first wife was Caroline Cathcart; they were married in Baltimore, Md. July 13, 1877.

"C. They had five children: Frank Cathcart Callins, Harriet B., Charles Gilman, Hugh Cathcart and Lucy.

Frank is unmarried, Harriet m. Mr. Matthew Ames, U.S. --divorced. Hugh m. Edna Jensen--a widow. They had no children. Hugh died in 1948. Charles died in young boyhood.

Charles Callins second wife was Minnie Grace Randall, they were married in Nagasaki, Japan, Oct. 26, 1877. They had four children:

Philip Randall Callins, --and children, David and Evelyn, the three last died in early childhood.

Philip Randall Callins m. Elizabeth Charlotte Wilcox. They had no children of their own, but adopted a little girl whose name was legally changed to Callins, but had no blood tie with the direct line of Callins.

John U. Callins, Jr., m. Harriet Louise Bates Callins, Dec. 21, 1887. They had four children:

John U. Jr., m. Allard A. Callins (identical twins) b. in San Francisco, Nov. 26, 1889, Elizabeth Mary Callins b. Aug. 16, 1898, in Berkeley, Cal., Gilman

Continuing John U. Callins line:

Elizabeth Mary Callins m. Wallace Herbert Fulton. They had three children: David Callins Fulton, Martha Fulton and Miriam Fulton.

John U. Callins, Jr., was married twice. His first wife was Deborah Hathaway Dyer, whom he married in Berkeley, Cal. Dec. 21, 1916. They had two children: Deborah Hathaway Callins and John Uberto Callins, III. They were divorced. John U. Callins, Jr., second wife was Lucille Dougherty. They were married at Vacaville, Cal., Feb. 25, 1936. They had one daughter--Sally Jane Callins. Allard A. Callins was married twice. His first wife was Ella Howland. They had no children. Allard A. Callins second wife was Persis Madine Junker. They were m. in Reno, Cal., Jan. 21, 1929. They had three children: Allard A. Callins, Jr., Persis Mary Callins, Elizabeth Nancy Callins.

John U. Callins, III, (son of John U. Callins, Jr. and Deborah Hathaway Callins) was married three times--Successively--Helen James, 1940--Divorced. Lee Stone, 1944--Divorced same year, Ardyce --, widow with two children.

Carlos Callins, who was a Captain in the U.S.N., was navigating Officer on Dewey's flagship at the Battle of Manila Bay in 1898.

John Uberto Callins was 96 years of age in May 1953. He lived at 28 Tanglewood Road, Berkeley 5, California and his daughter Mrs. Elizabeth Callins Fulton lives at 3114 - G Street, Washington, D. C.

John Uberto Callins was governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco from 1919 to 1936. He entered banking at the age of 19 and retired in 1936.

The foll wing is the line of a family in New Haven, Conn. The gentleman I corresponded with, namely Ziegler Sargent is retired and at the present time is taking a course for a Degree in the Yale Graduate Scho l and has not had the time, up to this writing, to give me his line in detail and at this time, I am trying all th information I have for the records but should I be able to get the line at a future date, I will add same to the foregoing.

Hugh Calkin - m. Ann Eaton?
 John Calkin - m. Sarah Royce
 Elizabeth Calkin - m. Samuel Hyde
 Elizabeth Hyde - m. Timothy Collins
 Cyprian Collins - m. Azuba Gibbs
 Rhoda Collins - m. Alexander Norton
 Rosa Norton - m. Augustus Miles
 Rhoda Miles - m. Charles Henry Oaks
 Harriett Amelia Oaks - m. Henry Bradford Sargent

The last two named were the parents of Ziegler Sargent, who, I believe, is quite well on in years at this time, but this is all I am able to get and I should like to have more details as this is a line descended from the daughter of John Calkin and Sarah Royce Calkin, and there is not much information available on the descendants of any of the earlier daughters of the family.

This line, descended from Elijah and Elijah, Jr. of Northeast, Dutchess Co., N. Y., who moved to Elizabethtown, Penn. Co., N. Y.

Calvin, son of Elijah, Jr. m. Maria Kellogg, they had 13 children, all born in N. Y. State, moved to Ohio in 1833 or 1834 and settled in Cuyahoga Co. where they resided until 1840. In that year Calvin moved his family to Indiana, to Elletts Co., and settled on a farm near Co. town (Indiana as a state was then only 4 years old). It is likely certain that the younger children came to Indiana with them.

The oldest son of Calvin, Milo by name, wrote an account of his adventures on a whaler, "The Last 7 years of the Expedition", he had a very interesting and adventurous life.

The Starr family of San Francisco are some of his descendants. Milo's sister, Jane Elizabeth m. George Warren m. Ellen m. John m. in a name, Ind. m. y had 6 children, one of them Celestia Maria m. Michael Boland, who had come to Elletts Co. in 1872 and was a telegrapher for the New York Central Railroad at Corvum. He was b. and raised in Toledo, Ohio, and from Corvum they moved to Auburn. Their daughter, Jessie Belle (Boland) m. Frank Everhart Holhart. They moved to California, where Mrs. Holhart died at the age of 21 years and 7 months and their son, George Boland Holhart was 6 months old. He was raised by his grandparents until he was 6 years, in Auburn, and sent to school there and his other was raised there.

John George was son, his father m. Grace sister of Butler. Later George went to a boy's school near LaPorte, Ind. and later to Auburn University and later graduated from Stanford University. He was in the Navy in world war I, but did not get overseas. Then he was in the Air Force in world war II in the Pacific Co. In the world war II m. In 1945 he moved to Tucson, Arizona and at present is with the Southern Pacific Railroad. His address is P. O. Box 5315 and he resides at 4414 S. River Road. I have him to thank for most of the data on this line.

For some time there was a doubt as to whether the Elijah and Elijah, Jr. In this line, the correct ones, but m. Holhart m. Carmichael m. now has it correct on his published biographical work "The Story of a Calvin Family".
